	◆ Introduction to Ritual and Values for Non-Initiates This session is designed to demonstrate how members of Pi Kappa Alpha should live their lives through Ritual and values each day whether they are a new member, colony member, or an initiated brother. This session displays the Fraternity's values through the True PIKE commitments and the preamble.	Oxford / Yale
10:10 AM – 11:10 AM	◆ Health &amp; Safety 101: Do the Right Thing First time PIKE University attendees will be engaged in a conversation that provides a foundational overview of the Fraternity's Health & Safety Initiative. Brothers will learn the strategies to run their chapters with an approach that encompasses the fundamental obligation to "do the right thing" while operating within the Standards of the Fraternity. Strategic actions for advancing risk management and self-governance will be provided as well as resources for managing event planning.	Princeton
	◆ Crisis Communications Greek life is under intense media scrutiny for issues such as sexual assault, hazing, intolerance, and abuse of alcohol. The actions of one individual can undermine the positive impact of a chapter. Being prepared to prevent incidents and respond to incidents in a timely and accurate manner may help mitigate damage to both the chapter and the Fraternity reputation. The session will include a short, practical exercise on drafting a "response to questions" in the form of a press release, followed by discussion of Health & Safety measures that could have prevented the fictional incident.	Oxford / Yale
11:20 AM – 12:20 PM	◆ Leadership Lecture Series Speaker W. Todd Bowling ( Colorado State, Epsilon Theta '83 ) The Leadership Lecture series highlights a prominent Pi Kappa Alpha alumnus and gives him the opportunity to share some insight into what has led to his personal and professional success. Whether it is based in leadership principle and theory or acquired through trial and error, many of these experiences trace back to undergraduate experiences in the Fraternity.	Princeton
12:30 PM – 1:30 PM	Lunch Banquet The banquet concludes with the presentation of PIKE University awards and remarks from a member of the Supreme Council.	Harvard
1:40 PM – 2:40 PM	◆ Take Control of Your Message This hands-on session with PIKE U certified men leading small-group break-outs will provide background on social media usage from a brand point of view and provide tactics on how to assess your current social media situation, develop a content calendar to enable a planned approach to messaging, and tactics to grow your audience size and engagement.	Princeton
	◆ Health &amp; Safety: Accountability A key component of PIKE Health & Safety is fostering an environment in your chapter where brothers have both the desire and capacity to hold each other accountable. Men who have attended previous PIKE University events will engage in a conversation that provides a framework for establishing an environment of peer accountability within the chapter. Discussion will include identifying strategies for establishing the core brotherhood obligation of accountability during the new member process and sustaining this principle throughout membership.	Oxford / Yale

4:00 PM – 5:00 PM	◆ Creating Your Ideal Organization: Going from Good to Great  This session for first-time PIKE University event attendees will give individuals the opportunity learn and discuss characteristics and operations that make fraternity chapters great.
